DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicants canceled claims 2 and 3.
2. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 9-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

In claim 9, applicants recite that the weight ratio of B1 to B2 is within a range of 1:1 to 1:10. There is no support for this limitation (it is the Examiner's position that applicants meant to say that the ratio is within a range of 1:1 to 10:1).

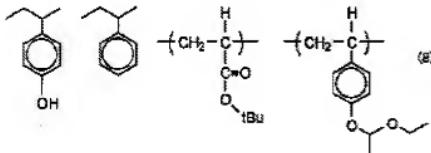

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1 and 4-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fujimori et al (JP 2001-142214 and its machine-assisted English translation of the Japanese document as provided by JPO).

Fujimori teaches (see abstract and pg.11 of the Japanese document) the following resin used in a positive photoresist composition:

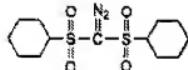

In Examples 13, 14, 16 and 17, Fujimori teaches a photoresist composition containing the resin (8) shown above, a photoacid generator and a nitrogen-containing compound (see Table 3 on pg.49 of Japanese document). Fujimori also teaches that his photoacid generator can be used in a mixture of two or more (see [0126] of English translation). In those Examples 13, 14, 16 and 17, Fujimori uses the following photoacid generators:

PAG-2

Since Fujimori already teaches that his photoacid generators can be used in a mixture of two or more, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to use the mixture of PAG-1 and PAG-2 in equal amounts in Fujimori's composition with a reasonable expectation of obtaining a positive photoresist composition having improved balance between the dense and coarse patterns of a resist pattern and improved line edge roughness. Fujimori also teaches present pattern forming method in [0164] and [0169] (see English translation). Thus, Fujimori's teaching renders obvious present inventions of claims 1 and 4-16.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 17-22 are allowed. Fujimori does not teach or suggest presently required magnetic film of claims 17 and 20. Also, Takeda et al (US 2002/0111459 A1) or Hirotoshi et al (JP 2001-081137), both of which were previously cited in IDS, does not teach or suggest present magnetic film of claims 17 and 20 (also, in Takeda'459, the weight ratio of B1 to B2 is 1:2 (see Example 4 in Table 1), and in Hirotoshi et al, the weight ratio of B1 to B2 is 17:1 (see Example 2).

Response to Arguments

8. By pointing to comparative examples, applicants argue that present claims are not obvious in view of Fujimori because of the unexpected advantages that are obtained when present (B1) and (B2) are used, and when the specific weight ratio of these two is used. However, applicants' such argument is found to be unpersuasive because the comparison was not made to the closest prior art. See MPEP 716.02(e). Also, the comparison made is not commensurate in scope with the broadest claim. See MPEP 716.02(d).
